

Aero Precision Receives Presidential “E” Award for Exports

May 16, 2011 Aero Precision was awarded the Presidential “E” Award for Exports by the U.S. Department of Commerce by Gary Locke in Washington, D.C. The Presidents "E" Award Program was established by President Kennedy’s Executive Order 10978 on December 5, 1961. The President “E” Award is the highest recognition any U.S. entity may receive for making a significant contribution to the expansion of U.S. exports.

“Exports are a key driver of America's economic recovery,” said Secretary of Commerce Gary Locke. “President Obama’s National Export Initiative (NEI), which aims to double U.S. exports by 2015 in support of several million American jobs, is a robust, forward-looking trade agenda with an emphasis on domestic job growth. “Aero Precision is being honored today for making significant contributions toward fulfilling that agenda.” “I congratulate you on your significant export achievement. It is businesses like yours that will help us meet or exceed the President’s NEI goals. Your firm provides an example we hope more American companies will follow,” Locke added.

“Exporting continues to be the foundation of our sales growth, and we are honored to receive the “E” Award,” said Evren Ergin, Aero Precision’s President and CEO. “Over the past 18 years, export sales have grown substantially, enabling us to sustain jobs and add additional employees.”

Aero Precision, located in Livermore, California, distributes OEM Aircraft Parts to over 60 countries throughout the world.
