Aero Precision Industries expands worldwide support with new supplement to current Honeywell Agreement

Livermore, CA – Aero Precision Industries announced expansion of its Honeywell D&S Distribution Agreement to include worldwide representation. The new Agreement supplements Aero Precision's current Honeywell D&S Agreement by providing stocking distribution for all Honeywell military aircraft products worldwide. Through its inventory, Aero Precision will provide spare parts and services support for all military aircraft globally. The new Stocking Distribution Agreement allows all international military users to meet their logistic needs quicker thus reducing aircraft down time.

As a stocking distributor Aero Precision has been selling Honeywell products since 1994. "Aero Precision's expanded Agreement gives us the ability to better serve our customers' needs, providing an FMS alternative. This new agreement is a sign of our commitment to Honeywell and to customers around the world who rely on those parts" explains Angel Flores, VP of Sales for Aero Precision.
